

Dear Dockets,

I am writing in regards to Docket # 98N-1038 - irradiation in food producing, processing, and handling. I think that foods which have been irradiated should definitely be labeled if not banned entirely. If people would buy more locally grown food, we wouldn't have to worry so much about food spoiling in the first place. There's just no need for radiation of our fruits & vegetables. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Hecky Bur

98N-1038

C 1042

